

TAKE HOME FINAL EXAM - DISCLAIMER

Name : _____

You may use your book, notes or calculator. You are under strict instructions not to discuss this exam or questions related to the exam with your fellow students. This class is able to bend all rules of 'test security' because I trust you to do this exam as if you were in a usual test taking situation. I am asking you to do your own work and do not seek help from other students regarding the exam or even questions related to the exam and homework during the two weeks.

You may seek help from me. I will refuse to answer directly the question on the exam but I can be a useful resource with problems which are similar.

When you return your exam, please include this sheet as a cover page and sign in the space below.

I attest that I have completed this exam myself without help from anyone else and I have not discussed the problems on this exam with other students in the class.
